In an era of rapid change, we often find ourselves wondering: is this all just a dream or is it really happening. Truth bends and shifts its shape – like an elusive ghost. Reality has been turned upside down; in fact, there are now multiple realities. We are living in an age of myth, where facts dissolve into something invisible. That's one of the reasons why we've chosen FAKE as the theme of FestAnča's 19th edition.

The programme will explore conspiracy theories, as well as simulation, derealisation, and fictionalisation. We aim to examine the "fake" as fabrication and its dangerous impact on society. Yet the "fake" can also act as a mirror – or even a gateway – to selves we have not yet allowed ourselves to become. After all, doesn't fiction reveal more about us than reality itself?

Exhibitions

The New Synagogue hosts Seen, an exhibition by Kathalunat that explores the dark forest of love, hate, judgement, and opportunity – a place where the internet is not yet dead. The exhibition's augmented reality content may be triggering for some visitors. Recommended for audiences aged 18+.

At Stanica Žilina-Záriečie, an exhibition of illustrations by the Berlin-based duo Adam and Sarc captures moments of friendship that keep us afloat in times of uncertainty, support us through difficult periods, and make us laugh even in the most awkward situations.
